EMPLOYMENT LAWYER (4+ PQE)

An exciting opportunity has arisen for an experienced and ambitious Employment Lawyer to advance their career within a successful, fast growing law firm.

You will be working autonomously, managing your own workload but within a friendly, supportive environment. Your work will involve advising a predominately corporate client base on a wide range of employment issues, both contentious and non-contentious. An engaging, straight-talking lawyer, you will be used to providing commercially astute advice to clients across a variety of sectors.

Taking a keen interest in business development activities, you will be driven by the prospect of generating new work for the firm by utilising your innovative ideas and networking skills.

ROLE RESPONSIBILITIES

- Managing a caseload of employment files, dealing effectively with cases and transactions
- Meeting financial and operational targets and supporting the budgetary management of client matters
- Building credibility with clients and developing your own client relationships through managing expectations regarding option, outcomes, risks and timescales
- Growing your internal and external network of clients, intermediaries and contacts, building on your personal profile and reputation

KEY REQUIREMENTS

- 4 years+ PQE employment law specialist
- Proven ability to generate new work through business development activities
